

February 16, 2016

Former Reeves-Sain to hire 200 for new 'Boro HQ

A distributor of pharmaceuticals and medical equipment is investing almost $15 million to build a new headquarters in Murfreesboro, where it plans to hire 200 people in the coming years.

TwelveStone Health Partners is the reincarnation of the Reeves-Sain Family of Medical Services, which last year sold its specialty pharmacy and retail businesses to Memphis-based Fred's Inc. for $66 million. The company's new headquarters in the Heritage Square development off Memorial Boulevard north of downtown Murfreesboro will house its corporate, logistics, billing and service divisions.

"As a fourth generation Tennessee entrepreneur, creating high-value jobs statewide is very important to me," said TwelveStone Health Partners CEO Shane Reeves (pictured). "We are building a business that will have statewide impact benefiting communities in Chattanooga, Memphis and Knoxville."

Construction on the home office will begin in about a month and help Reeves and his team expand their operations from a 44-county area to all of Tennessee's 95 counties.

